

INTRODUCTION

Palliative care provides holistic care to patients (and their families) diagnosed with a life-threatening or life-limiting illness. It is care that helps people live their life as fully and as comfortably as possible. Palliative care identifies and treats symptoms which may be physical, emotional, spiritual or social. Because palliative care is based on individual needs, the services offered will differ but may include: Relief of pain and other symptoms, for example, vomiting, shortness of breath; Assistance to families to come together to talk about sensitive, difficult issues; Links to other services such as home help; Support for people to meet cultural obligations; Counselling for emotional, social and spiritual concerns, as well as bereavement support; Referrals to respite care services. Palliative care is a patient-centered model of care, meaning that the patient is involved in all decision-making regarding his treatment and care, additionally family and carers can receive practical and emotional support.
